

SKILLS TRAINING ON NETWORKING

In a global world personal contacts become more important. Knowing and being known to a wide range of people provides substantially more opportunities to carry out top level research and win grants.

This workshop will serve to convey strategies for developing effective personal networks and to explore how to approach people from organisations outside your own.

Target group Early-stage researchers, e.g. PhD candidates or postdocs.

Duration 1 day (or 0.5 days in combination with Lobbying)

Language English
